School Bells Set to Chime Again Sept. 10 for Fall Term

Sequoia High School will open on Sept. 10, with an expected enrollment of 2000, Supt. A. C. Argo announced Wednesday.

Students will spend the first day receiving program cards and paying student body fees. Full-time school will start on the second day, Argo said.

Students entering the building on the first day, Argo added, will find a bulletin giving directions for registration. Special information desks will be provided to serve seniors, juniors, entering freshmen, and transfers. Sophomores will go to their social living classes of the previous year.

Program cards will list subjects previously selected by students and the periods and rooms in which these subjects will be taught. Pupils who have not yet selected subjects will have an opportunity to do so on Sept. 3, 4, 5, and 6, between the hours of 9-12 a. m. and 1-4 p. m.

Students are requested to come prepared to pay the following fees: Student Body, $2.00, Boys' League, 25 cents, or Girls' Society, 50 cents. Also, according to Argo, students wishing a 1946-47 year book are expected to pay $1.50.

Classes in the Adult Evening High School will also start Sept. 10, with approximately the same curriculum offered as last year. Students in both the regular and adult schools are urged to get off to a good start by registering on the first day, Argo said.

Buses will run on the same routes and at the same time as last Spring, and the entire school plant has been put in excellent condition for the new school year, he added.

Ten new teachers elected to the staff include, Miss Eunice Philbrick, fundamental science and biology; Mrs. Rosa Davies, girls' physical education; Ray Hubbard, art; Mrs. Eva Newman, art; Clarence Wigell, band and orchestra; John Caffrey, Adolph Hansen, Clyde Kimball, and Mrs. Sallie Long, social living, and English; and Miss Geraldine Jurras, Spanish.

Huge McLaughlin Estate Divided

Judge Clark Clement Monday approved final distribution of the multi-million dollar estate of the late Dorsey E. McLaughlin of Hillsborough. His estate included extensive mining stocks.

Upon his death on Sept. 17, 1945, Mr. McLaughlin left an estate appraised at $4,804,550.65.

Of that, $1,829,249.91 went to the federal government for inheritance taxes, $346,707.20 for state inheritance taxes, and $49,145.96 for legal counsel of Pillsbury, Madison & Sutro of San Francisco.

Residue of the estate, after specific bequests were made, was granted equally to his widow, Mrs. Catherine H. McLaughlin, a son, Dorsey Hamilton McLaughlin, and a daughter, Mrs. Marian M. Javor. Specific bequests included $2500 to the Episcopal Church of San Mateo and $2000 to the San Mateo Preventorium.

Correct Error In Recall Claims

Lt. Col. Joseph L. Connolly, leader of the opposition to the Ravenswood School Dist. recall Wednesday corrected a statement made Monday regarding irregularities in circulating recall petitions.

Connolly, who threatened to request grand jury investigation, claimed that a petition verified by Mrs. Margaret Rose Anway was actually circulated by another person. He identified the circulator as "Mrs. Ralph Kidder." This was in error, he said today. The correct name of the actual circulator is Mrs. Evelyn E. Kidder, he announced.

Meanwhile the colonel said he has located in the file at the county school superintendent's office a petition of 35 names that was accepted without the signature of the petition circulator on the verification slip.

Skyline Crash Causes Problem

California Highway Patrolmen from three counties pondered a jurisdictional problem—all brought about when two Southern Californians crossed paths on Skyline Blvd. Tuesday.

North of Saratoga Gap, cars driven by Katherine E. Hinkel, 29, of 3511 West 29th Place, Los Angeles, and Harold M. Miller, 41, Walt Disney Studio employee of Pacific Palisades, crashed head-on yesterday.

Capt. E. F. Cassell of the Redwood City CHP office went to the scene where the three county lines join.

Jagged boundary lines repeatedly dissecting the highway made it impossible to locate the accident by county.

To be on the safe side, he completed a report on the crash and returned it to his Redwood City files. So did Santa Clara and Santa Cruz authorities.

Bus Line Honors 2 Redwood City Drivers

Two Redwood City bus drivers have received awards for safe driving, the Pacific Greyhound Lines announced recently.

Rex C. Hawkins won an award for three years' driving without accident, and William M. Walter was given an award for two years of safe driving. They were among 300 Pacific Greyhound Lines drivers to receive this recognition.

Alienists Named To Examine Newton

Judge A. R. Schottky Wednesday appointed three alienists to check Vorhes Newton, 24, and prepare testimony for his murder trial which begins Oct. 9.

Dr. E. W. Mullen, superintendent of Agnew State Hospital.

Dr. Walter Rappaport of the state's institution for the criminally insane at Ukiah, and Dr. Margaret H. Smyth, formerly of the Stockton State Hospital.

Newton, who is charged with the murder of his two infant daughters and the attempted murder of his wife, Lorraine, is currently confined to the San Mateo County jail.

His attorney, Leo Friedman, has already employed the services of Dr. Joseph Cutton, San Francisco psychiatrist, who has talked with Newton several times.

Cyclist Injured In P.A. Accident

A Mountain View motorcyclist who was seriously injured in a collision with a car at San Antonio and Charleston Rds. southeast of Palo Alto Saturday night at 9 o'clock was reported in "fair" condition at the Palo Alto Hospital Monday morning.

John Van Benthorn, 17, of Route 1, Box 102, Redwood City, told highway patrolmen that, while driving east on Charleston Rd., he stopped at the intersection to let a motorcycle pass and had just started up again when a second one, driven by Edgar Monness, 27, of Mountain View, crashed into his car.

Chest Drive Roster Completed Here

Ray Spangler, campaign chairman for the Redwood City Community Chest drive, Monday announced completion of the roster of committee chairmen for the campaign.

Maj. Arthur N. White will direct the solicitation in Palomar Park. B. Grant Taylor will lead the Emerald Lake district committee. Andrew Spinas will contact elementary school staffs. Don Kauffman will solicit contributions from the Sequoia High School faculty and A. P. Jordan from the unclassified employees.

Walter T. (Bud) Kellogg will direct the sale of tickets for the annual kickoff dinner, Sept. 25.

Peninsula YMCA Opens Camp Session

The Peninsula YMCA Tuesday announced opening for campers at the last coming period of the season at Camp McCoy, located in the Sierras near Pine Crest in Stanislaus National Park.

The camping program includes horseback riding, riflery, archery, boating, handicraft, swimming in Strawberry Lake, and overnight hikes.

Ian Hutcheon, member of the Peninsula YMCA staff, will direct the camping period from Aug. 26 to Sept. 7.

Marooned Youths Push to Safety

Two San Mateo youths who set out for Redwood City from the Palo Alto Yacht Harbor Saturday night, but were marooned on a mud bank until daylight, beat the coast guard out of a search, sheriff's deputies reported Monday.

William L. Johnson, 18, and Ronald Lempiere, 20, managed to get their 15-foot boat out of mud just as a coast guard plane flew overhead in the first stage of a search ordered by the sheriff's office.

Both marooned sailors, members of the merchant marine, made port, apparently none the less for wear.

Horse Trainer Asks Damages for Injuries

Edward Souliere, Redwood City horse trainer, Monday asked $25,000 damages as the result of an accident at Bay Meadows last April in which he was crushed against an automobile by a horse.

Souliere, who resides at 249 Fourth Ave., Redwood City, named as defendants the California Jockey Club, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Curland, owners of the horse named Revelry Blue, and Billy Sweigart, jockey.

The accident occurred Apr. 20, the plaintiff declared.

It took 32,000,000 rabbit skins to make 3,000,000 of those big khaki felt hats the Australian Army wore in World War II.

County Aides Claim Wage Scale too Low; Board Gets Budget

Faced with a threat of wholesale resignations of county employees dissatisfied with existing pay schedules, the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday postponed consideration of a proposed minimum 11.5 per cent blanket increase.

The increase was recommended by the County Civil Service Commission last week.

In the meantime, the exodus of county employees already has started with others threatening to follow.

Since July 1 the county probation office has lost three employees, two have left the county clerk's office, two have quit in the librarian's office, three fire equipment operators have resigned, one school office employee has quit and another is threatening to leave while an earlier vacancy in the office remains unfilled.

In addition, six clerks in the controller's office have appealed their classification, stating that they will not be satisfied with the proposed 11.5 per cent increase in their present classification.

Community Hospital, operated by the county, has been running short-handed on nurses and attendants for many months with prospects of replacements at the present salaries.

It was unofficially reported after this morning's meeting of the supervisors that three were in favor of adopting the increases recommended by the Civil Service Commission.

The increases recommended, ranging from 11.5 per cent to 18.5 per cent, would cost the county an estimated $160,000 to $200,000 over the amount allotted for salaries in the 1946-47 fiscal year budget. They would affect approximately 600 county employees.

4 Persons Hurt In Head-on Crash

Four persons suffered minor injuries at 6 p.m. Monday in a sideswipe-head-on crash on the Old Coast Hwy. near Pescadero, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Three things we would like you to know about

The labor dispute which has stopped work on 10 new telephone buildings

1. Neither the Telephone Company nor its employees are parties to the dispute.

The strike by members of the building trades unions which has stopped all construction on 10 new telephone buildings and additions has been called because of a dispute between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL) and the Association of Communication Equipment Workers, an affiliate of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, over which union shall do the work.

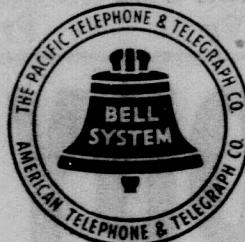

2. The work in dispute has always been done by Western Electric Company employees now represented by the ACEW. The work which the IBEW is now asking to do has been done by specially trained employees of the Western Electric Company.

3. The strike is delaying the installation of thousands of needed telephones in the Bay Area. The buildings are being constructed to serve the public. We have been extremely anxious to complete them at the earliest possible date in order to meet the great unfilled public demand for telephone service and to make our service even better than it has ever been before.

We regret the delay in the construction of these buildings caused by a strike in which neither the Telephone Company nor its employees have any part.

We sincerely hope that the dispute will be settled soon.

Austrian Romance Blamed In Superior Court Suit Here

Mrs. Edwina W. Richardson, Atherton socialite, Monday filed suit for separate maintenance from Maj. Daniel G. Richardson in superior court here.

Mrs. Richardson, who until Aug. 15 had planned to join her husband in Austria where he was stationed with occupation troops, said he had returned to the United States to inform her of a romance with a Viennese woman.

The major, the complaint stated, said he was through with Mrs. Richardson, that he was in love with a woman in Vienna who expects a child by him, and that he intended to return to Austria to marry her.

Furthermore, the complaint declared, he said he intended to fight for custody of his 5-year-old son, Daniel Sydney Richardson, and take him to Austria.

The trip, according to the complaint, was to be financed by cashing war bonds owned by the couple.

Mrs. Richardson, now at home with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Linwood Walker, 50 Winchester Dr., Atherton, sold her Los Altos home about six months ago when her husband requested she and the boy join him overseas, her attorney said today.

The major had promised to return to this country to accompany them overseas, but on his arrival here on Aug. 15, informed her of the overseas romance.

Richardson, a mining engineer in Taft oil fields before the war, is now on terminal leave and is residing in Palo Alto with his mother.

The complaint seeks a decree of separate maintenance, a court or-

Six Injured In Accidents

Joe Don Chew, 22, East Palo Alto Chinese farmer, suffered major injuries early Monday in a Bayshore Highway traffic accident near San Carlos.

The collision was one of three injury accidents investigated by California Highway Patrol officers over the weekend in which six persons were hurt.

Chew was southbound at 1:15 a.m. when his car was hit from behind by one driven by Add Brown, 58, 1451 San Antonio Dr., Menlo Park, patrolmen said.

Brown, a Negro laborer, and his wife, Tao, 48, were taken to Community Hospital, where Mrs. Brown was released after receiving emergency treatment.

Chew was confined to Community where his condition today was "fair."

Saturday at 8:35 a.m., two persons suffered minor injuries when a car driven by Adel D. Anderson, 25, 732 West Glen Way, Redwood City, went out of control on Jefferson Ave., near Canada Rd.

The Anderson car, which collided with one driven by Jerrold J. Smith, 28, 2134 Hillcrest Dr., Redwood City, apparently had a steering defect, and may possibly have lost a wheel just before the collision, patrolmen said.

The couple was married in Atherton in 1932, shortly after Richardson's graduation from Stanford University.

Convict Released In Dooley Quiz

The state department of justice today announced the release of Charles Davis, paroled convict who was put through a five-hour session with a lie-detector Monday in Berkeley in connection with the mysterious disappearance 15 months ago of Peter Dooley, a 52-year-old San Mateo painter.

Special Agent R. F. McCarthy said he was "through questioning him, for the time being."

Davis was paroled from San Quentin in 1940 where he had been serving a sentence for an Imperial County murder committed in 1923 when he was 16 years old.

Dooley has been missing since May 29, 1945, when he disappeared from his San Mateo hotel room. His coupe was later found abandoned near Golden Gate Park, with bloodstains and other evidence leading police to believe Dooley "had been taken for a ride," slain and robbed.

S.F. Man Dies

Roy Newman, 335 Gough St., San Francisco, died Tuesday morning at Community Hospital. He had walked into the Redwood City police station yesterday morning, complaining of a heart attack and was rushed to the hospital.

Police Chief C. L. (Mickey) Collins said Newman was an employee of the San Francisco assessor. The body was taken to the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home.

Bandits Escape After Cafe Holdup

Two holdup men, one of whom pistol-whipped an employee of the Yellowstone Cafe, 298 El Camino Real, in Millbrae Sunday night, eluded all-points police hunt along the Peninsula early Monday and escaped.

Their loot was $60 taken from the bartender at the Yellowstone after one of the robbers fired a shot over the heads of patrons to show they meant business. Forty persons were in the cafe at the time.

At 10:25 Sunday night the two men called at the bar for a drink. Then one drew a pistol, fired the warning shot and asked Tony Ministeri, bartender, for "all the bills in the register."

Kemper Young, employee of the Yellowstone, disobeyed the gunman's command to stand still, and walked toward him. The men, according to witnesses, hit Young on the head with the gun, threatened to kill him if he moved again, then proceeded to take cash in the register.

The other robber made no attempt to draw a weapon. The two men then roared away from the Yellowstone in a 1936 gray Ford sedan.

Some 20 bar patrons obeyed the robbery duo's command to remain quiet during the holdup. Many other guests, in the adjoining dining room of the Yellowstone, were not aware of the holdup.

San Diego Youth Wins Soapbox Race

For the first time in the nine-year history of the event, the international soapbox derby champion is a Californian, but Redwood City's champion, Richard Bygones, who became a member of the four-boy California delegation to Derby Downs in Akron, O., when he annexed the regional finals in San Francisco two weeks ago was not the winner.

Bygones, who traveled to Akron last week with his family and his blue and cream racer, built under the sponsorship of the Davies Auto Co. and the Tribune, won his first heat in the fourth fastest time recorded for the initial event, but lost out on the second round to fifth place winner Jerry Aulick of Scotts Bluff, Neb.

The 1946 champion is 14-year-old Gilbert Klecan of San Diego, who won a $2000 scholarship (the has said he will go to Notre Dame) and the national championship trophy, presented by the Chevrolet Motor Co.

Bygones made no excuses, and needed to make none.

Klecan, the son of a Consolidated-Vulcan employee, smeared graphite over the sides of his streamlined racer "to cut down wind resistance," and by the time he had clocked his winning 27.13 seconds for the 1000 foot course, graphite was also smeared over his hands, face and feet.

Milk Flows After Morning Accident Here

Commuter motorists were slowed at 8:20 a.m. Tuesday by a broken milk bottle barricade on El Camino near Brewster Ave.

Whole cases of Borden Dairy Delivery Co. bottles were broken and strewn across the highway when a truck driven by Roy A. Jensen, 36, 405 8th Ave., Menlo Park and an auto driven by Mrs. Florence McAuliffe, 43, 12 Lowell St., collided. The truck was southbound and the auto eastbound.

Mrs. McAuliffe is the wife of Justice of the Peace E. I. McAuliffe.

Police called firemen to wash the broken bottles off the highway as many vehicles detoured around the scene during the early morning press of traffic.

Pair Return Home After Alameda Meet

Frank Armstrong of Redwood City, and E. Heywood of Atherton, past grand president of the Pacific Jurisdiction, American Order Sons of St. George, returned home recently after attending the annual Grand Lodge Convention in Alameda.

S.C. Planning Commission Airs Requests for Duplexes

After two years, during which time charges were hurled that the problem was being used as a "political football," the subject of construction of duplexes in San Carlos came before the San Carlos Planning Commission.

The request was presented by E. J. Nackord and sought permission to build several duplexes at Walnut St. and Belmont Ave., which is now zoned first class residential.

Two years ago the Suburban Investment Co., because of city opposition, withdrew its application for a project in the Devonshire area to build one story landscaped duplexes. Instead, the construction took place in San Mateo. Monday Councilman Truman S. Waterman, member of the planning commission who led the fight against these duplexes, instructed the present petitioner on how to apply for a rezoning permit.

A business section at the north end of Laurel St. with adequate parking area was submitted Monday to the commission by Herman Christensen of the Garden Terrace Subdivision. The map allowed for East and West Laurel St. in this area to be zoned for business and East and West Elm St. to be zoned for third residential.

At the last planning commission meeting City Atty. Carl Anderson opposed Christensen on this project.

Christensen's plan was tentatively approved by the group and he was instructed his next move would be for rezoning.

The audience was comprised mostly of residents of the downtown Block 17. Chmn. Gordon Bye told this group an alley way for parking in Block 11, which is bounded by El Camino Real, Laurel St., San Carlos Ave. and Cherry St., had been approved by the city council, and the commission felt it was now time to deal with Block 17.

This area is business on Laurel St. and San Carlos Ave. and first residential on Walnut St. and part of Cherry. The chairman told those concerned that they would receive notices of a public hearing.

Discussion of the Holly St. clover leaf intersection at Bayshore, proposed by the state, came late, and the commission agreed to arrange a joint meeting with Belmont to see if some central approach could be suggested to the state to serve the two cities. Holly St. residents have opposed a four lane highway.

TAVALERO JAILED

Redwood City police arrested Tony Tavalero, 53, 227 Jackson St., Sunday on a charge of drunken driving. Apprehended on Middlefield Rd. near Jefferson Ave. at 11 p.m., Tavalero was booked at the San Mateo County jail and later freed on posting of $150 cash bail.

Realtor Acts To Find Home For Veteran

Floyd H. Lowe, Palo Alto real estate operator who Tuesday was accused of racial discrimination by Jose Senarosa, Wednesday declared that he was doing everything within his power to find a home for the disabled Filipino veteran.

Senarosa charged Tuesday that Lowe and Earl M. Berendsen, promoters of the Menlo Park GI subdivision, had discriminated against him because of his race and color when Berendsen sold a house in the tract to another veteran after Senarosa had paid Lowe a $145 deposit on the same property last January.

Senarosa, who is faced with possible eviction within the next two days from his room at 2244 El Camino Real, Tuesday retained Jonathan Rowell and Melvin M. Belli of Horace "Troquois" Fong fame as his attorneys.

Rowell said Wednesday that he is investigating possibility of legal action against Berendsen and said that Lowe had promised not only to seek a permanent home for Senarosa, but also would try to find a room for him in the event he is evicted from his present quarters.

The possible eviction is the result of steps taken by Harold Davies of Redwood City, owner of the building in which Senarosa rents a room from Mrs. Ng Wong, to raise Mrs. Wong's rent from $50 a month to $400, with the announced intention of recovering the use of the building for himself if she does not pay him $400 by Thursday.

Mrs. Wong's attorney, A. H. McGovern, said that the building, which also houses the Wong's Chinese restaurant, is used predominantly for a residence, and as such should have been registered with the OPA.

Neither the building, nor the 800 per cent rent-raising effort were registered with the OPA, and the Wongs have refused to pay, McGovern said.

If the Wongs do not pay by Thursday, Davies will demand eviction, and if they continue to occupy the building after that day, he will demand $1200 rent for the rest of the month, according to notices received by both Senarosa and Mrs. Wong.

The building is only a few blocks south of the restaurant owned by Horace Fong and Melvin Belli. Belli defended Fong in a race suit in Oakland earlier this year, and won the case on a forgotten California law which classed Chinese as American Indians.

Half County Tax Rate For Salaries

Breakdown of the new county tax rate adopted Tuesday by the board of supervisors show $2.75 cents or almost half of the tax levy, is for county salaries.

The new rate adopted by a resolution of the board is $1.7642 per $100 of assessed valuation. This tax is 41 cents higher than last year's rate of $1.3561, and tops all previous tax levies in the county.

The controller's estimate of the tax levy for the county for 1946-47 was compiled on a net valuation of $140,905,029. Total valuation of the county assessment rolls was $129,122,545, less a contemplated 3 per cent delinquency of $3,873,676, bringing the valuation down to $125,248,869. Total valuation of utility property was $15,656,160, raising the net valuation, on which the tax rate was based, to $140,905,029.

The new tax rate applies to the entire county, but all cities except San Mateo, Burlingame and Redwood City, must pay an additional tax of .0512 to raise $47,171 for the county free library district. This levy was made on a net valuation of $92,217,292.

Weekly Cleanup Needed To Keep Garden Orderly

Cleanliness is a most valuable garden asset. Unless your premises are well-kept and orderly all your other efforts will be handicapped. A landscape filled with litter and other types of refuse certainly will look like an eyesore to even the most casual observer.

There are different methods that may be utilized for keeping a garden clean and healthy. Some are good and others are just a waste of time. Don't think you can solve the problem with a general house cleaning program once or twice a year. Only constant vigilance will do it, yet possibly less than an hour each week may be required to accomplish the job.

Bamboo rakes, which were off the market for many years, are now again available. These are light in weight and even a child can yield such a garden tool quite expertly. It's wise to rake your lawn area at least once a week. Also, if possible clean out all corners that may have been filled by rubbish heaps, blown by the wind. Remember that bugs and insects are encouraged by the deposit of waste materials.

As plants grow to maturity and outlive their usefulness they should be removed. A specimen that is on the downgrade can not possibly be considered a garden asset any longer; moreover, it will be taking up space that should be planted to more attractive ornamentals. Old plants very frequently become a harbor for all kinds of insects and if they are no longer producing should be expelled from your garden at once.

Regular Spraying Will Keep Down Garden Weeds.

Under the heading of cleanliness you should also consider the matter of pest control. If you have only one plant, sooner or later it will be attacked by some insect pest. Modern spray materials may be used for a combination treatment and in this way most of the insects may be controlled with one application. However, you will have to be constantly on guard; don't think that one shot will cure your plants for the balance of the season. It may be necessary to spray as often as twice a month during the growing season in order to effect control.

May Ask Jury to Probe Ravenswood Recall

Lt. Col. J. J. Connolly, leader of the opposition to the Ravenswood School Dist. recall election, Monday charged irregularities in circulation of the recall petition. He said he may request a grand jury investigation.

Connolly Monday morning told Pansy Jewett Abbott, county school superintendent, that he had affidavits in his possession disclosing the irregularities.

Specifically, he said, they involved a petition submitted by Mrs. Margaret Rose Anway, 430 Oakdale Ave., East Palo Alto, who took oath that she "saw written" all of the signatures she submitted.

Connolly claims his affidavits prove that at least two of the signatures verified by Mrs. Anway were actually obtained by Mrs. Ralph Kiddier, 1105 Garden St., East Palo Alto.

Connolly has retained an attorney to investigate the possibilities of legal action. He quoted the law as follows: "Every person is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison, or in a county jail, not exceeding two years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars or by both, who makes any false affidavit, conceals, or in any way interferes with the recall election or the signatures appended thereto."

Connolly stated he would put his charges in writing, forward them to Miss Abbott and to the Ravenswood School Board, and ask that the recall election scheduled Sept. 10 be cancelled.

"I do not believe that there is any probability of voiding the election," Connolly said. "I am advised that the courts will probably hold that the petitions were signed in good faith and that the election should be held. When it is held, I believe there is a good chance to defeat the recall."

Connolly also charged that one petition was submitted without the signature of the circulator—Mrs. Clare Mortensen—on the verification affidavit. After inspecting the petitions today in Miss Abbott's office he said it had either been signed subsequently or entirely removed from the record.

Patterson admitted that the verification affidavit of one petition had not been properly signed, but said he could not recall whether the signature had been supplied after the petition was filed.

In any event, Patterson pointed out, it contained only 35 names and its elimination would not be sufficient to void the election. The petitions required 545 signatures and contained 590 against T. A. Callahan, and 580 to recall Mrs. Rose Boyer, the two school trustees under fire.

"My interest in this affair," said the retired army officer, "is to support a school board which has had the courage to follow the dictates of its own judgment. I first became interested when the Citizens' Service League, of which I am a member, sought to build a recreation program at the school. We met opposition, and I agree that a change was necessary."

"But more important is the fact that this board refused to be the rubber stamp of any individual or group."

He argued that only 67 families of more than 400 with children in the schools are represented on the recall petitions.

There will be no charge for the service, Sanders said, but he reminded veterans that they must bring their discharge certificates. Application forms may be procured at any post office or at the bureau. The American Legion Post 105

Pumping Plant Damaged in Blaze

Fire caused $1200 damage to a water pumping plant owned by the Menlo Country Club Monday. Redwood City firemen, called at 3:12 a.m., found the pump house on Orchard Ave., near Woodside Rd., completely engulfed in smoke when they arrived.

Chief Joe Lodi said the fire was probably caused by defective wiring. He estimated a $200 building loss and $1000 equipment loss.

Firemen received a verbal report of the fire at their station from an unidentified person who saw the flames.

At 3:16 p.m. Monday they also extinguished a grass fire in the rear of 38 Oak St.

Asks Solitude In Divorce Suit

Exclusive possession of a Redwood City apartment was asked Wednesday in a divorce complaint filed by Gladys K. Park against Manning Warren Park, an importer.

Her complaint, charging cruelty, also asks an equal distribution of community property in excess of $125,000, and a court order to prevent Park from molesting her.

The couple was married on Jan. 25, 1935, in Tijuana, and separated July 15, the complaint states. They have no children.

The apartment is at 141 Whipple Ave.

5 O'clock Whistle Takes Vacation

That old hallel about the 5 o'clock whistle not blowing is taking on new meaning in Redwood City. Firemen announced that a whistle operated for them by the S. H. Frank and Co. tannery is out of action because the company is repairing its boilers.

William Lutje, a fireman, said the company has been operating the whistle for the department without cost since 1914. The whistle is used to sound the alarm for fire and to announce the hours.

Armed Bandits Rob Motor Court

Two men, believed to be the pair who robbed the Yellowstone Cafe in Millbrae Sunday night, Tuesday brandished a gun in a Colma motor court and emptied a cash register of $105.75.

Roy Fisher, owner of the Motorville Auto Court on El Camino Real, told deputy sheriffs how the two entered his office to ask if he knew anyone who was driving south and would take them as passengers.

The bandits then asked for a cigarette machine before one brandished a revolver and threatened Fisher, his wife, and a tenant, Charles Oliver, in their demand for money.

One of the pair held the gun while the other emptied the till, as the bandits who robbed the Millbrae cafe had done.

Deputies were unable to obtain fingerprint clues from a telephone receiver one of the bandits left night before from a telephone.

Descriptions of the pair, as obtained by Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter H. Moore, are:

A 27-year-old man, 5 feet 10 inches, 185 pounds, blue eyes, dirty blonde hair, leather coat and wearing blue jeans.

A 23-year-old man, 5 feet 6 inches, 150 pounds, black eyes, dark hair, dark complexion, wearing a grey gabardine overcoat.

Council Rejects Plan To Divert Water Pipe For Edgewood Rd. Use

A plan to divert water pipe from a new housing project to the Edgewood Rd. district was rejected Monday night by Redwood City city council.

Leading a delegation seeking the pipe for Edgewood was Louis Behrens, 842 Edgewood Rd. Calling council attention to a fire which last week destroyed a garage owned by August Fromm at 891 Edgewood Rd., Behrens said that 16 years ago when he built his home water pressure was sufficient to operate two garden sprinkler systems. Now, he claimed, it is necessary to turn garden water off to get pressure upstairs in his house. He claimed the Fire Department does not have enough men, telephone circuits, nor water to fight a house fire in the district.

Fromm said that the water shortage problem in Redwood City was an old one. He said that in the 1890s fire fighters had to pump from creeks and an occasional cesspool to stop fires and pointed out that fire-fighting equipment was useless without water.

Mayor W. W. Hilton told the delegation that the city has a plan to correct the city's system but is unable to obtain the major part of $25,000 worth of pipe it ordered. City Mgr. E. W. Blom said a study of a main map would show that Edgewood Rd. districts have a better main system than other parts of the city.

He claimed that other parts of the city are actually in a poorer condition. So far, he continued, only the pipe for a new Woodside Rd. housing project has arrived, and that was obtained, through Congressman J. Z. (Jack) Anderson and the manufacturer, solely for the 100-unit housing project.

Glenn Ticer, 731 Edgewood, suggested that the pipe for the housing project be used to carry out Blom's plan to install eight-inch and 10-inch feeder lines to the Edgewood district.

Blom explained that only eight-inch pipe has arrived and that by itself it would not materially better the present condition. He also pointed out that a diversion from the housing project would be uneconomical.

After council had passed a motion ordering Blom to proceed with plans and specifications for the new feeders so that the city will be ready to start construction when pipe arrives, Ticer demanded an engineer's report that the eight-inch pipe by itself would not materially better the situation.

Blom, a civil engineer, started to repeat his original statement only to be interrupted by Ticer who claimed he wanted "an engineer's report." Blom told him, "You're getting it right now," and started to continue.

Ticer objected again, saying that at one time he had studied bydraulics. At this point Councilman

News of Commuters

BY LOCOMOTIVE BILL

The hearing on the proposed commutation fare increase will be held on Friday, Aug. 30, before the State Railroad Commission. Peninsula commuters will be represented at the hearing by five members of the transportation committee of the Redwood City Commuters Club headed by William Curran, Dick Tum Suden, City Councilman Chester Armstrong, Gene Hoffman and the writer.

Mr. Tum Suden will act as attorney for the group. The club's representatives in appearing before the commission are not doing so with the intention of filing any protest but to listen to the evidence presented by the Southern Pacific Co., cross-examine their witnesses, if necessary, and when the evidence is in, arrange to file a brief either in support of or against the proposed increase.

CITY EMPLOYEES SALARIES: We thought we were all through with this subject, but certain remarks attributed to our city manager call for a rebuttal, not with any idea of debating the issue, but rather on keep the record straight. City Mgr. E. W. Blom last Wednesday told the Tribune that the 1946-47 salary ordinance was based on studies made in April and May when, according to a Department of Labor index, living costs since July 1, 1941, were 27 per cent less than costs in April, 1945. If Mr. Blom was quoted correctly then he should check his figures. The truth of the matter is that the Department of Labor index in April, 1945, showed a 27 per cent increase in cost of living since January 1941, and has been going up ever since, not down.

The index does not reflect additional wartime increases caused by lower quality merchandise, disappearance of low-priced goods and forced changes in living habits. It also is an index representing average figures taken from all over the U. S. and does not reflect the fact that the cost of living on the Pacific Coast is the highest in the nation. It is interesting to note that the labor bureau in a recent announcement estimates a rise in the cost of living from June to July of 5 1/2 per cent, the greatest monthly rise ever recorded. Compare this with Mr. Blom's statement that price increases had no more than caught up with the city percentage of salary boost, amounting to 4 per cent, arranged last May.

The County Civil Service Commission just a few days ago recommended to the board of supervisors an increase for county employees from 11.5 per cent to 18.75 per cent. Mr. Albert Randall, commission chairman, in explaining the reason for the requested increase, explained that the cost of living which is studied monthly by the commission has risen sharply in the last 90 days.

If the requested increase is granted by the supervisors it will

William M. (Bill) Werder demanded that Ticer remain quiet and listen to the report he had requested.

Although Councilman Chester C. Armstrong attempted to keep discussion alive on the plan to divert the pipe which had arrived, council dropped the matter.

In his report Blom said he expected the remainder of the pipe order to arrive in October or November. Valves and fittings, he said, have already arrived. Today, Fire Chief Joe Lodi said that a 1000-gallon tank truck operated by the San Mateo County Forest Service would enable city firemen to combat Edgewood house fires if the department could get the tanker to the fire soon enough.

He had previously explained that there is not enough water in Edgewood mains to combat a house fire.

Approved changes in city personnel regulations reducing the work week for sewer, water and park field employees from 44 to 40 hours, and authorizing time and a half payment for all overtime work on Sundays, holidays and nights. This move, which Blom said was suggested by company yard employees was approved subject to approval by the board of review.

Heard Councilman Floyd D. Granger demand that council review a proposed budget before passing it at the first September meeting so that provision will be made to obtain funds if they are needed to hike city salaries. He pointed out that because of inflation, salaries would have to be raised before the year is completed.

Rejected an appeal by George W. Evans that tenants at an apartment he owns at 619-627 Hamilton St. be allowed to park automobiles at night in city streets. Evans claimed his building did not provide garage space for all his tenants.

Instructed City Atty. Paul McCarthy to prepare an amendment to the zoning ordinance providing 10-foot setback lines on the northwesterly side of James Ave. between El Camino Real and the Southern Pacific Co. station, on the southerly side of Winkiebleck St. between California St. and the station, and on the easterly side of California between Winkiebleck and James.

Adopted a taxicab ordinance amendment removing a clause which demanded that drivers be city residents.

Adopted an ordinance prohibiting the issuance of new permits to raise chickens in the first residential district.

be the second increase for county employees this year.

As for our city manager assuming the sole responsibility for low salaries, we see no reason why he should. The city council has the final say in the matter, and they can approve or disapprove the manager's recommendations.

We suggest that the proper solution to this problem is to amend Personnel Ordinance 445 to give authority over salaries to a civil service commission such as the present board of review. They, along with the chief personnel officer, Mr. Blom, would consider and make recommendations on salaries to the city council.

Our city manager, for whom we have the highest regard, would then have the advice and assistance of men selected for their experience in handling personnel for private corporations.

Forty commuters gathered at the Aviation Cafe last Tuesday evening for their regular monthly dinner meeting. The meeting was given over to an all-business session, with the speaker of the evening none other than the "spirit of the commuters" William Curran, Bill, who would rather speak than eat, made the finest talk of his long career and received an ovation at its conclusion. His subject was "the history of the Redwood City Commuters Club."

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Member of San Mateo County Community Chest

Preparations are under way for the sixth world jamboree, according to the announcement released to the Scout Field by the National Council.

The world jamboree will be held at Moisson, near Paris, France, Aug. 9 to 21, 1947.

The prospect this war-delayed jamboree will create much interest among Scouts and Scout leaders of the San Mateo Council and according to Scout Executive E. A. Barrer the contingent from the San Mateo Council will be limited to 50 scouts, 14 years of age or over and who are First Class Scouts.

Plans are being made for a camp of 40,000 scouts, coming from some 50 different countries.

An organization is being planned which will make possible the opportunity for meeting and getting acquainted with the scouts from other lands. The camp will be divided into 15 sub-camps, each containing 2000 scouts. 650 of these will be French scouts and 1350, foreign scouts. Instead of camping in one section as in previous jamborees, large national contingents such as those from America will be divided and the jamboree troops placed in the different sub-camps. To every foreign troop of 35 scouts will be attached a French scout as interpreter. He will remain with the troop from its arrival in France until its departure.

Plans are being completed for the 11th Annual Sea Scout Regatta to be held Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2 at U. S. Maritime Service Training Station, Alameda, according to Capt. Malcolm E. Crossman, USMS, superintendent. Sea Scouts from California, Nevada and Utah will be participating in the regatta.

A formal grand ball for all sea scouts and officers will be held on the opening night of the affair. This will be preceded by a parade of the regatta participants.

All of the participating sea scouts will be berthed at the U. S. Maritime Service Training Station during the regatta and meals will also be served at the station.

Comdr. W. W. Baumeister, council sea scout commodore, will be assisted by Commissioners Charles Meul N. S. Naughton and Asst. Scout Executive Don L. Barley. The San Mateo County Sea Scout ships will be in charge of the skipper of the units and will proceed to Alameda at 5 a.m. Aug. 31. The local scout office is acting as liaison in registering all sea scout units of the region for this sea scout regatta.

Club Scouts of Pack 2, 6, 12, 13, 14, 18, 20, 21, 42, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 101 and 132 have been notified of the Division Fun Day which will take place at the Burlingame High School on Thursday, Aug. 22 starting at 10 a.m. and continuing until 3 p.m.

Invitations have been extended to the 600 cubs of the Central Division to participate who have been instructed to bring their sack lunch. The event will be in charge of Don L. Barley, and Earle Schmidt of the Boy Scout office.

The National Council of the Boy Scouts of America has announced a revised advancement plan for air scouting which will be adopted by the San Mateo County Area Council and which should widen the field of interest for Senior Scouts in this phase of the program.

The plan provided for recognition of achievements in advancement in both general and specialized knowledge of aviation through badges of rank and specialist badges. The badges of rank will be those already in use—apprentice, observer, craftsman and ace. They will be earned by Senior Scouts in the above order by meeting requirements from groups of subjects based on their own choice of interest combinations. The new specialist badges will be earned by meeting certain specified requirements and by participation in at least one service, one outdoor and one social activity. These specialist ratings include that of a builder, communicator, mechanic, navigator and outdoorsman. New insignia has been designed for these ratings.

Of particular interest to the man who will be joining Air Scout squadrons in the future is the new Air Scout apprentice requirement. Under the revised advancement plan, to become an apprentice he shall be 15 years of age or older and shall interpret the practical application of the scout oath and law to his squadron leader, and shall formally declare his adherence to them and his allegiance to the United States of America and its flag. He will present his application for membership in the squadron, including evidence of a physical check-up, together with a list of his hobbies, skills and sports and a record of his aviation and camping experiences, if any.

Details of the new requirements will be placed in the hands of local squadron leaders as soon as they can be published for distribution.

Water Must Soak Deep to Make Grass Drouth Proof

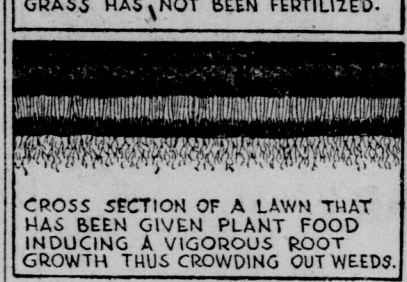

Whether your lawn lives or dies may be determined by the manner in which it is watered. Probably more lawns perish through lack of moisture than from any other single cause.

It is quite true that sprinkling systems, by making the job so easy, have contributed largely to the poor appearance of much grass area. It has become too easy to turn off the sprinklers.

Probably not one amateur in fifty pays sufficient attention to the matter of watering his lawn. The ground actually should be soaked. The moisture must be allowed every possibility for seeping through the upper soil levels and penetrating to the lower depths. Any other treatment is sure to encourage shallow rooting, a condition that can not possibly support a healthy top growth.

The feeding roots of grasses, as well as of all other forms of plant life, seek out their food and moisture supply. They grow for moisture. If the soil is deep down is damp then the roots will grow downwards, a condition that is highly desired. But light sprinkling provides only a little moisture on the surface and the roots curl up towards this damp area.

Then some day a hot wind dries out the surface and the root zone becomes entirely arid. The roots thus have lost their water supply and the grass takes on a withered and dying appearance. But if the moisture has soaked into the soil for several inches then this area will not become adversely affected by the wind. And the grass roots several inches below the surface in the feeding area will go right on with their job of utilizing this water supply.

As a result a deep rooting plant will continue to support a husky top growth even in spite of a drying and penetrating wind. It is only necessary that sufficient moisture be provided at watering time to insure some of it getting several inches below the surface, to encourage deep not shallow rooting. The next time you water your lawn let the sprinklers run for fifteen or twenty minutes. You'll be amazed at the results.

Fletcher Honored At Demo Banquet

San Mateo County is one of the strategic areas for the Democratic party this year, a representative of the state central committee said Tuesday at a "send off" dinner in Atherton for Evans A. Fletcher, Democratic candidate for assembly from the 27th district.

He was John F. McEnery of San Jose, vice chairman of the state committee, principal speaker at a meeting attended by leading Peninsula Democrats and some Republicans supporting Fletcher's candidacy.

McEnery listed San Mateo County as one of 12 assembly districts "in doubt" and said victory in seven of the districts would assure a Democratic majority in the new assembly.

He conceded Republican wins in 35 districts and claimed the Democrats are certain of victory in 33. The meeting was staged by the County Democratic Central Committee which recently named Fletcher for the assembly race after the winner of the Democratic primary, Michael Carter Callan Colma, was disqualified by not having won his own party (Republican) nomination.

Fletcher, a former Redwood City councilman, opposes Richard J. (Dick) Dolwig, young South San Francisco attorney, Republican nominee. Others who lauded Fletcher at the meeting included Robert F. Peckham of Palo Alto, chairman of the Eighth Congressional District; Pat Frayne, former county committee chairman and now public director of the State Central Committee, and Patrick J. Kearns, mayor of San Carlos.

Tresidder Praises Scholarship of Veterans

Praising the "reassuring maturity and seriousness of purpose" of the veteran students at Stanford, Donald Tresidder, president, recently wrote a letter to the board of trustees that the veterans have maintained a scholarship record higher than the general average of the university.

This opinion coincided with beliefs of educators representing 19 colleges and universities in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii who recently replied to a survey conducted by the Veterans' Administration.

The praise runs high in letters from other schools: "I have never seen such consistently high grades," says one dean; "Most earnest and competent group of students that we have had," says another educator; "Determination to succeed in spite of their disabilities," a registrar states, referring to the wounded veterans; and "older and more settled," a college president avers.

President Tresidder continued in his report to the board of trustees: "Much has been written about 'veterans' problems.' If our experience to date is criterion, I believe that these 'problems' have been greatly exaggerated, at least as far as colleges are concerned. Were it not for the acute nation-wide housing shortage, there would be no 'veterans' problem of any amount at Stanford. On the contrary the university is indebted to them for bringing a serious stabilizing influence to the campus at a time when it is most welcome."

G. D. Barahal, veterans' grades co-ordinator, by citing the records of 12 veterans who attended Stanford before the war and who were disqualified for poor scholarship. "Upon reinstatement after discharge," Mr. Barahal reported, "I notice that these veterans are doing at least 'B' work and one is doing 'A' work." H. Donald Winkler, registrar at Stanford, lays much of the excellent grades of the veterans to their "high quality." He said that "we are turning down students now who formerly would have been accepted." He also maintained that the comparative maturity and the desire to finish college in as short a time as possible tended to create better grade levels.

...A Grocery Clerk Thought of Managing a Peninsula

ROBERT WHITE was an imaginative grocery clerk when he first went to work for us in 1933. Lucky for us he had imagination, for today he is General Manager of Lucky Stores on the Peninsula — after successive steps to Assistant Store Manager, Store Manager, and Supervisor.

He is 31 years old, and lives with his wife and two children in his own home at 904 East Grant Place, San Mateo. Although he enjoys all sports, badminton and ping pong are his favorites.

* This is one of a series of biographical sketches of the men who have made Lucky Stores the favorite shopping places of Northern California.
